Hi everyone-

The students looked really lovely today – all in uniform, awesome hairdos- for the school photos. I have already had a look at the photos and they look great.

Harmony Day at The Channon was lots of fun…. and glue. The lanterns are still under construction with a few more decorations to do, but they look great.

We explored the book “Whoever you are, Wherever you are” by Mem Fox. It is a story which celebrates the differences between children everywhere. The story encourages children to realise that no matter what differences exist between people on the outside, inside they are just like them. I’ve included a few poems by the students.

Languages:

The class has unanimously decided that we are going to learn Japanese for the rest of the year (might have to call on you Fumi!!). However, for the rest of this Term, we will begin by researching the country of Japan.

If you pop into The Channon Shop- look out for the following picture:

Yes... we have started to place excess produc in the shop for sale. We have LOTS of cucumbers at the moment.

Whoever they are. Wherever they are different.

Hudson likes chickens
Ruby likes koalas
Venus likes tigers

They are different.

BUT

Whoever they are. Wherever they are, they are the same.

Venus likes chocolate
Ruby likes chocolate
Hudson likes chocolate too.
